Lafa honors CFS graduates

At its 40TH Anniversary Celebration dinner, the Los Angeles Fastener Association honored the most recent graduates of the Fastener Training Institute's™ Certified Fastener Specialist™ advanced technical training program. The 5 graduates who attended the meeting were: Mike Dyson CFS from Hayes Bolt & Supply, Lori Barron CFS from Heads and Threads International, Jorge Rosales CFS from Pacific Warehouse Sales, Steve Bachman CFS from WCL Company, and Susan Cole CFS also from WCL Company. Another graduate unable to attend the meeting was Jeff May CFS from ACF Components & Fasteners.

To receive the CFS designation, students have to complete seven full-day training programs offered throughout the year and pass a take-home exam at the end of the training.

Upon completion of the program, students receive an engraved plaque designating their achievement.

More than 600 students have participated in the program since its inception. There are now 207 graduates.
